Fred Gordon Plummer, geographer of the Forest Service, died suddenly on August 15 at Washington, at the age of forty-nine. In July, 1905, he was transferred from the Geological Survey to the Forest Service as civil engineer. His chief work for the Service was done as its geographer, and his compilation of statistical and map data is one of the most notable in the country. Mr. Plummer was a voluminous writer on subjects connected with geology, geography, and forestry, and wrote the first descriptions of forest conditions in many of the National Forests of Washington, Oregon, Arizona, New Mexico, and California. Besides these descriptions, which were issued by the Geological Survey, he wrote monographs on "Chaparral," "Lightning in Relation to Forest Fires," and "Forest Fires: Their Causes, Extent, and Effects." At the time of his death he was cooperating with Mr. Graves in the preparation of a publication of forest statistics.

Memorial exercises in Mr. Plummer's honor were held in Washington, at which the Forester, the Associate Forester, and other members of the Service spoke of his life and work.

The Forest Service suffered another loss in the death, on July 29, of Forest Examiner Addison W. Williamson. Mr. Williamson entered the Service July 1, 1909. For a greater part of the time from September, 1911, until the spring of 1913 he was in charge of the office of forest management in the East. A thorough student and an effective worker, Mr. Williamson showed marked ability both as an executive and as an administrator. His various assignments included studies of forest conditions in North Carolina, of the forest taxation problem in Wisconsin, of the results of sowing and planting in the east, of cottonwood in the Mississippi Valley, and many cooperative examinations of private timberlands and Federal military and naval reservations. The report on his study of cottonwood, completed shortly before his death, will be published as Bulletin 24 of the Department of Agriculture.

With deep regret announcement is made of the death, on September 25, of Supervisor C. W. Fitzgerald of the Pike National Forest. Mr. Fitzgerald entered the Service as a surveyor in January, 1907, was promoted to deputy supervisor in December of the same year, and to forest supervisor in October, 1908. His loss to the Service will be keenly felt.

With deep regret announcement is made of the death of Daniel S. Marshall, forest ranger, Uinta National Forest, July 4, 1913.

SERVICE NOTES FOR OCTOBER.

These notes contain instructions and necessary information to forest officers, and will therefore be carefully read and kept on file for reference.

LAW.

OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR.

Conference at Salt Lake City—

The Solicitor of the Department has arranged for a conference at Salt Lake City on November 10th next with his assistants in charge of each of the six districts of the Forest Service. The chief purpose of the conference is to consider methods of handling the legal work of the Forest Service in the field so as to secure economical and efficient results.

Law Cases in District 2—

The case of the United States v. L. N. Kelly et al. was tried in the United States District Court at Deadwood, S. Dak., on August 30, 1913, and resulted in favor of the Government. This was a suit in equity brought by the United States to cancel the patent and quiet the title to 160 acres of land which had been reconveyed by one J. C. Carter to the United States under the act of June 4, 1897, and other lands selected in lieu thereof. A patent had issued to Carter for the base land after the reconveyance to the United States and prior to the approval by the Commissioner of the General Land Office of his lieu selection. After the issuance of the patent, and after the lands selected in lieu thereof had been patented, Carter gave a quit-claim deed to L. N. Kelly for the base land. Kelly secured patent to this land from the Land Office where it had lain since the date of its issuance undelivered, and filed it, together with the quit-claim deed from Carter, in the county records. The consideration for the quit-claim deed from Carter to Kelly was $20. The land was worth $1,000 to $1,200. The court held that the patent which had issued to Carter conveyed no title to him whatever and that Kelly was not an innocent purchaser, and ordered the patent delivered up for cancellation, as well as the quit-claim deed from Carter to Kelly, and that the title be quieted absolutely in the Government.

In the case of the United States v. Charles Ennis, which is pending in the United States District Court for the District of South Dakota, and which is similar to the case of the United States v. L. N. Kelly which was decided in favor of the Government on August 30, a stipulation was filed agreeing to consent judgment in favor of the United States, immediately after the decision in the Kelly case.

On September 14, 1913, C. J. Patton was convicted in the United States District Court at Deadwood, S. Dak., for using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud, and was fined $100. Patton was convicted of devising a scheme to defraud by securing a quit-claim deed from one Kenoyer for a certain piece of land which Kenoyer had reconveyed to the United States under the act of June 4, 1897, and received patent to other lands in lieu thereof. The patent was issued to Kenoyer for the base land in the same manner as described in the case of the United States v. L. N. Kelly et al., Patton having secured a quit-claim deed from Kenoyer for the land which he had formerly reconveyed to the United States, secured the patent from the Land Office, and placed it and the deed of record, and then sent a letter through the United States mails to Joe Korthouse endeavoring to sell him this land.

On September 15, 1913, Thomas and Amos Smith were found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court at Deadwood, S. Dak., on an indictment containing three counts, under sections 52 and 53 of the Federal Penal Code of 1910. After the conviction a motion for a new trial was overruled and the defendants were sentenced each to 90 days in jail and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

On September 4, 1913, at Deadwood, S. Dak., Frank Corns withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with building a fire near timber on the Harney National Forest, and going away and leaving it without first totally extinguishing it. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs.

On September 4, 1913, at Deadwood, S. Dak., John H. Woodford withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with building a fire near timber on the Harney National Forest and going away and leaving it without first totally extinguishing it. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs.

On September 8, 1913, at Deadwood, S. Dak., Nelse Pearson pleaded guilty to an indictment under section 52 of the Penal Code charging him with willfully setting on fire certain timber on the Black Hills National Forest, and was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

On September 2, 1913, at Deadwood, S. Dak., James Riley pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with leaving unattended a fire near certain timber on the Black Hills National Forest under section 52 of the Penal Code, and to building a fire near timber on the Black Hills National Forest and going away and leaving it without first totally extinguishing the same. He was fined $10 and costs.

The grazing trespass case, against Wirt, Gomez & Co., involving a trespass upon the San Juan National Forest in 1910, was settled by the payment of $50.

The grazing trespass case against Joseph B. Crosby, involving a trespass upon the Bighorn National Forest committed in 1910, was closed by the payment of $50, covering the actual damage done to the Forest.

The timber trespass case against W. H. Wood, which involved the unlawful cutting of timber on the Arapaho National Forest, of an estimated value of $248.34, was settled by the payment by Mr. Wood of the sum of $200.

On September 4, 1913, the Secretary of the Treasury accepted the sum of $3,500 submitted by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co., in payment for damage occasioned by forest fires upon the Black Hills and Harney National Forests occurring during the year 1911 from sparks emitted by the company's locomotive engines.

The case of the United States v. Wagon Wheel Gap Improvement Co. was a case in equity in which the United States sought to restrain the defendant company from closing a road which crossed its property and refusing to allow persons purchasing timber from the Government free passage over the road. The case was tried before Judge Lewis in the United States District Court at Denver on August 8 and 9, and resulted in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

In the case of United States v. Joseph O. Major in the United States District Court for the District of Colorado, a permanent injunction was secured on April 4, 1913, restraining defendant from cutting timber or committing any other kind of trespass upon certain lands within the Pike National Forest. The land in question had been entered under the preemption act and canceled by the Commissioner for failure to make proof within the statutory period. The county, subsequent to the cancellation of the entry, had sold the land for unpaid taxes and the defendant claimed title through subsequent conveyance based upon such tax certificate.

Law Cases in District 5—

A jury in the Federal Court, Southern District of California, found Ignacio Salazar guilty of willfully setting a fire on the Cleveland National Forest. The defendant was sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

The United States Commissioner at Red Bluff, Cal., committed Christy Lawson to jail for willfully setting a fire on the Klamath National Forest. The hearing was set for October 3, 1913.

Two claims were filed before the referee in bankruptcy, Northern District of California, in two timber trespass cases on the Eldorado National Forest, against the Eldorado Lumber Co.

The Yosemite Valley Railroad Co. settled two fire-trespass cases, resulting from sparks from a locomotive, by the payment of a total sum of $149.95.

A decree for cancellation of homestead patent, on the Monterey National Forest, was entered in the Northern District of California against Agapitto Martinez.

LANDS.

Right of Way—Reservation in Patent—Former Procedure Restored—

Under date of September 11, 1913, the First Assistant Secretary of the Interior held that the Interior Department has no authority to insert in patents restrictions, limitations, or reservations other than those authorized by existing law. This reverses the ruling of the same Department of June 3, 1913, and where now it is desired to reserve a right of way across a June 11 listing, the desired area must be excepted or excluded under the former procedure which is restored. (See Field Program, April, 1911, pp. 133-4.)
